

LEAP

No-code App Factory

"The most impressive tech I've seen in a decade." Patrick Sells | CIO Quontic Bank

Create software solutions cheaper and faster, and with pre-connections to data!

How will Leap's No-Code App Factory make your work easier?

Software solutions built with Leap have BIG advantages over other applications which is why no-code development IS THE FUTURE.

- ALL components are cloneable, customizable & reusable.
- Your data is interchangeable.

Different APIs and data sources can plug and play.

- Adding features is modular.
- Data gathering & analytics is customizable.
- White labelling and UI is a snap.

Get branded templates with customer-friendly UI

- Dev ops is automated in a secure cloud environment.
- Containerization, security, extensibility & scalability are built-in.

The LEAP team works with you to create full blown enterprise applications, both internal and customer-facing, in just a few weeks without having to code.

LEAP can revolutionize your modernization efforts and be your competitive advantage.

LEAP adds data interoperability, API extensibility and UI flexibility so you can innovate anew or extend legacy with plug-and-play modules. Streamline your software and data systems. Untangle the spaghetti mess.

Ways to Get the LEAP App Factory Lift

The future is API and data interoperability – Powerful, flexible, fast and easy. Just connect, drag, drop and deploy to make fully scalable apps. LEAP is a family of no-code technologies, a platform-as-a-service, in a secure environment that ingests data and gives you the tools to transform data into modular application components that are reusable.
